Re: "Within the Woods" / Sam Raimi

Dear Mr. Arauju:

This law firm represents Mr. Sam Raimi, the copyright owner of the short film entitled "Within the Woods" (the "Film")

We understand that, through your website www.danielg2.vze.com (the "Website"), you are currently offering public downloads of the Film (both in its entirety and in the form of "clips" from footage of the Film) over the internet. Please be advised that Mr. Raimi has not granted permission for such downloads or other use of the Film (and/or portions thereof) in connection with your Website, and such use constitutes an infringement of Mr. Raimi's valid copyright in the Film.

From a brief review of your Website, it is apparent that you are an admirer of Mr. Raimi's work. We wish to express that Mr. Raimi appreciates both your admiration and the excellent job you have done designing a website dedicated to honoring him. Please understand, however, that this particular Film is a very personal project for Mr. Raimi and, to date, he has not authorized any public or commercial distribution of the Film.

Accordingly, we must respectfully demand, on behalf of Mr. Raimi, that you cease and desist from all activities that in any way make use of the Film (or any portion thereof), in connection with your Website or otherwise. Specifically, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, demand is hereby made that you remove all multimedia downloads containing the Film (or any portions thereof) from the Website and/or any and all other websites registered to you, or which you otherwise control.

We must place you on notice that any further use of the Film will subject you to substantial liability for, among other things, copyright infringement.

Please be advised that if you do not promptly comply with the foregoing request, our client will have no other alternative but to pursue all of his appropriate legal remedies against you. Legal action, however, is a last resort that we do not wish to pursue in cases of this sort. Accordingly, I hereby request that you contact me within seven (7) days of the date of this letter to confirm that you will comply with the foregoing request. Based on your admiration for Mr. Raimi, I trust that you will honor his wishes and act accordingly.

Nothing contained herein is intended as, nor should it be deemed to constitute, a waiver or relinquishment of any of Mr. Raimi's rights and remedies, whether legal or equitable or otherwise, all of which are hereby expressly reserved.

Cordially,

John V. Meigs, Jr.
